Witness: Mr. O'Neill has not spoken to me since that time he called me on the phone from Chicago. Mr. Williams has been doing the dirty work type thing coming over. Have they made any promises or threats, no. Have they asked me if the Biggs were paying me, yes. Several times. I said no. I said, no, but the last time Mr. Williams came to my house, I've come to the point now, like I lock the door during the day. Cause he never comes in announced, he never calls and says he's coming, he just shows up and like, snoops around my house to see what's there and if there's anything new. Like my tv blew up and my mom bought me a new tv and he was like, how did you get that tv? And its like, I got it and its none of your business and that is the day I asked him not to stop over anymore cause he made me .....

RJL: How many times did he stop over?

Witness: At that house, at my new place, at my old the residence I lived in from July until October...

RJL: That was School Street?

Witness: No, I left School Street July 1st. From July to October I lived in a house on Gimlet Street, not Jim O'Neill's house but a different home and it burned to the ground so I had to move to the Pyrites one just to add to my lovely year I've had. When I moved to Pyrites, when I lived in the house on Gimlet Street, he visited me three times there. When I moved to Pyrites, he has been there, I swear, probably at least 25 or 26 times.

RJL: Has he been trying to get you to go to see their, his lawyer?

Witness: Yes, they called. Sam Militello. Ronald Williams called me prior, two days prior to me having to be here. And said, Jim wants you to go up and I'll buy you lunch and I'll pay your babysitter and I'll do all this if you go talk to Sam Militello before you go see the Biggs and Mr. Leader. I said no. First I don't feel like going to Watertown, secondly, I mean, cause I, it
